

Beautiful

Michelle Williams

Picture a world where the sky and the sea aren't apart
Imagine a mother who has no love in her heart
How about a child's laugh with no joy (Joy)
Man it sounds crazy like life without you
What's the point?
I don't ever need to see that to know that you're real
It's plain as day so crystal clear

Each time I see you I see the beautiful
Beautiful love in your scars
Each time I breath you
I become beautiful
Beautiful just as you are
When the sun shines a creation of love
When the moon meets the night we're all safer in your arms
Happy to see you because you make life beautiful
Beautiful from dusk til dawn
Jesus you are so beautiful

Picture me trying to figure me out by myself
Like the times I came to you and said I don't need your help
But you wouldn't leave me til you won my heart
But I wish I'd learned quickly without you I won't get too far
Now I wish I never had to see that to know that you're real
When it's plain as day so crystal clear

Each time I see you I see the beautiful
Beautiful love in your scars
Each time I breath you
I become beautiful
Beautiful just as you are
When the sun shines a creation of love
When the moon meets the night we're all safer in your arms
Happy to see you because you make life beautiful
Beautiful from dusk til dawn

You're the love of my life
You stripped away my pride
I need you desperately
Hopelessly
More and more
No one but you
Catch me and make me brand new

Each time I see you I see the beautiful
Beautiful love in your scars
Each time I breath you
I become beautiful
Beautiful just as you are
When the sun shines a creation of love
When the moon meets the night we're all safer in your arms
Happy to see you because you make life beautiful
Beautiful from dusk til dawn
Jesus you are so beautiful

Jesus you are...
