

Critical Emotional

Middle Class Rut

You're critical
Emotional
Paralyzed by your own design
Your lies stay hidden in the darkness
But when the sun comes up
Your time is up

You're secured by your insecure situation
Give me a nice tall glass of confident confirmation
Hold up a sign man and tell me where to go

Let it all come down
Let it all come down
And if it don't swallow me
Take back the air I breathe
And go ahead and give it to someone else

I never asked for this crutch
For this much
Inside need to stay out of touch with the world outside
The best prescription to stay alive

There's a secret hidden in the back of my brain
That's telling me that I've got to more to gain
Than to lose this time
I'm falling far behind

Let it all come down
Let it all come down
And if it don't swallow me
Take back the air I breathe
And go ahead and give it to someone else

Let it all come down
Let it all come down (Let it all come down)
Let it all come down (Let it all come down)
Let it all come down
And if it don't swallow me
Take back the air I breathe
And go ahead and give it to someone else
