A Beggar on a Beach of Gold

Mike & The Mechanics

I didnt know when I was lucky Discontented feeling bad Filled with envy For possessions other people had

I found my pride had always hurt me Fought the world to gain control Not realising I was sitting on a beach of gold

Oh lord Im a poor man
With all the riches I can hold
Im a beggar
And Im sitting on a beach of gold

The problems I encountered

Gave me strength helped me sustain

To know the pleasure

First I had to cure the pain

When I was searching for solutions I found the answer lay in me Im a drifter But Im drifting on a silver sea

Oh lord Im a poor man
With all the riches I can hold
Im a beggar
And Im sitting on a beach of gold

I didnt have courage
My life was as dark as night
When alone in the darkness
I saw the brightest light
Let the light shine down

Are you out there now on empty Feel youve nothing left to give Sick of trying Have you lost the will to live?

Dont be drowning in the shallows With the beach so near at hand Hear the voice say Stand up get up And join me on the gilded sand

Come and join me on the beach
With all the riches I can hold
Cause Im a beggar
And Im sitting on a beach of gold

Oh lord Im a poor man
With all the riches I can hold
Im a beggar
Im sitting on a beach of gold

My children my salvation The father to this man Theyre my teachers Playing on the golden sand

With my family all around me Ive all the riches I can hold Im a beggar Sitting on a beach of gold

Oh lord Im a poor man
With all the riches I can hold
Im a beggar
Sitting on a beach of gold
