

Cool to Cry

MØ

You hold it in and I don't know why
You keep your feelings on the inside
I think it's cool, I think it's cool to cry

You don't need to play down your emotions
You can leave them out in the open
Let your tears flow like a fountain
Like a fountain
Fill an ocean up

You don't have to break through your boundaries
Plowing through the hills and the wild seas
When you're reachable you excite me
Come on, show me
I will fill your cup

Do you worry if I really really knew you
I couldn't carry your heart?

You hold it in and I don't know why
You keep your feelings on the inside
I think it's cool, I think it's cool to cry

You hold it in and I don't know why
You keep your feelings on the inside
I think it's cool, I think it's cool to cry

We live in a world of distractions
Trading sanity for some action
Close our eyes to all of the bad things
Turn the bad things and the sad things off

But that's not who we are to each other
Come let me take the weight off your shoulders
And lean on me when life is a bummer, such a bummer
When it's all too much

Do you worry if I really knew you, see through
I couldn't carry your heart?

You hold it in and I don't know why
You keep your feelings on the inside
I think it's cool, I think it's cool to cry

You hold it in and I don't know why
You keep your feelings on the inside
I think it's cool, I think it's cool to cry

I'm not too cool to cry
I'm not too cool to
I'm not too cool to cry
I'm not too cool to
I'm not too cool to cry
I'm not too cool to
I'm not too cool to cry
