All The Things

Monkey Business

Only thing that you really need And the one that you want to keep Is me I know All alone you will never breathe Without me you can never see The light I know Be still And we can do more than fantasize Growing A little spark which is hope for us Whenever we unite We make the world so bright Little chance And the cinders dance We have no other commitments Yeah I know you are ready for me I know you will always be Only thing that you really need... I am holding the master key To you future and destiny Tonight Night chill Is only good till you realize Until We unite there's no chance for us Whenever we unite... I know you are ready for me Doing all right doing all right Burning I know you will always be Burning through the ceiling
