

Days Will Run Away

Motion City Soundtrack

I had a bad feeling again
Everyone's underground
Somehow it seems better this way
With me not around

I tried to hide all that I was
Everything's ending here
Saw the whole scene slowly dissolve
Nobody wins

And the days will run away before you know it
The lights will dim, the earth shakes, and the whole thing disappears
If you could live a million years in just a moment
Would it hit you even harder?

Why is goodbye so hard to say?
Everything's caving in
Sever all ties like a ghost in the night
As bad as I am

And the days will run away before you know it
The lights will dim, the earth shakes, and the whole thing disappears
If you could live a million years in just a moment
Would it hit you even harder?

All that you said straight to the grave
There is no meaning
I really do feel
It's better this way with no one around

And the days will run away before you know it
The lights will dim, the earth shakes, and the whole thing disappears
If you could live a million years in just a moment
Would it hit you even harder?

And the days will run away before you know it
The days will run away
And the days will run away before you know it
The days will run away
And the days will run away before you know it
The days will run away
And the days will run away before you know it
