

Break The Cycle

Motionless in White

You don't come alive as i fought to break the cycle
Bring an end to the suffering
I was shadowed or black out
Storming the background
One man's whisper is another's scream
So get between all

Forsaken, I walk the line alone, no sanctuary
No place for me to call my home
But it's time to break the cycle, go

Nothing might, place where I. go down
Can someone tell me who the fuck I am
Now I'm on my knees, try to drain this disease
Repair this machine with unsteady hands
Searching for truth in a lie

Forsaken, I walk the line alone, no sanctuary
No place for me to call my home
But it's time to break the cycle

I come to pray, with my own mind
With records later, silk define

Now I'll be gone my own device
Ever sad contemplation
Your right to inspire time
I break til the sun rise and leave it behind
I lost all they can spend
As I left you for painless faces
Reliving the same
Break through the cycle, start to condemn

Forsaken, I walk the line alone, no sanctuary
No place for me to call my home
But it's time to break the cycle
The past is up to you
Let go and save me from
Open the door to the unknown
