

City Lights

Motionless in White

Paralyzed by my envy of the night
I am lost without you here and outside it looks like rain
For the last time, I bleed myself dry tonight And nothing I could ever write, would help you understand this life
There's so much beauty when your eyes lay lost in all the city
lights
The wax will drip as so as blood, romance is dead and all is lu st.
You are the water in my lungs, we've lost it.
We are all alone.

Paralyzed by my envy of the night
I am lost without you here and outside it looks like rain
Tonight I bleed myself dry, I bleed myself dry, I bleed myself dry
And nothing I could ever write, would help you understand this
There's so much beauty when your eyes lay lost in all the city
lights
The wax will drip as so as blood, romance is dead and all is lu
st.
You are the water in my lungs, we've lost it....
NOW!!!
