

Antidote

Mr Hudson

You of all people, after all we've been through
Started out an angel and now you get away with murder
Made our home into a crime scene you know I'd never hurt you
I'd say call the paramedics, but I know it's too late

Still don't understand this
How long had you planned this all?

You made my heart stop with just a few drops
Now it's a race against time
Was it the water or wine?
Some kind of poison
Can feel my blood boiling
But now I know there is no antidote for you

I thought that my story would end more like the movies
In a black and white car crash or on a crazy Vegas night, right
But this is medieval. We're on some game of thrones shit
At least you stabbed me in the front, not in the back... thanks
