City of Delusion

Stay away from me Build a fortress And shield your beliefs Touch the divine As we fall in line

Can I believe When I don't trust All your theories Turn to dust I choose to hide From the all seeing eye

Destroy this City of Delusion Break these walls down I will avenge Justify my reasons With your blood

You'll not rest Settle for less Until you guzzle And squander what's left Do not deny That you live and let die

Destroy this City of Delusion Break these walls down I will avenge Justify my reasons With your blood
