Treason

Mushroomhead

Just to see if anything comes back

Just to see if anything comes back
Back

You took all that I had left
So low, cannot comprehend the death
Sinking with quickness
Easily dismissed
A Double-Edged Sword so hard to swallow
Within your words I wallow

And wait
And wait for the reason
And wait
And wait for the reason

Comitting treason trying myself
Sentenced to knowing the difference and Pretending anything can help
Throw it all away

Just to see if anything comes back
Throw it all away
Just to see if anything comes back
Just to see if anything comes back
Just to see if anything comes back
Throw it all away
Just to see if anything comes back
