

Analysis Paralysis

Napalm Death

Analysis paralysis
If you are looking for the guilty ones
We only need to look in a mirror Facing our reflections
we are scarred - scarred but immune To our negative impact on others
We scream at the wall and turn away from the advice That might make us better men
We scream into the walls
It's analysis paralysis
We hide our heads in the sand
or run away
It's analysis paralysis
Analysis paralysis
Frowning on the positives
One mans meat is another man's poison Equations and discord divide but never unite Drowning in the negatives Will we ever see the wood for the trees?
Hating the truth, denying the hope
It might make us better man
We scream into the walls
It's analysis paralysis
We hide our heads in the sand
or run away
It's analysis paralysis
Thriving in the disarray
Our bridges burn in tribute Wash away the ashes and failure with the tears of understanding Another epitaph and an heir to wretchedness
