Obstinate Direction

Napalm Death

Premature is our response To the apathy we're allegedly fighting When the only voice we seem to share Is the one of infantile back-biting

As once broken-down barriers Are gradually being recreated We neglect our main purpose And allow ourselves to be segregated

As we slowly fall apart Divided by bitchery

In a bated breath
Who mentioned the word "unity"?