

Life's A Bitch

Nappy Roots

Aye man, I wonder what's gonna happen the minute my cash get dropped
You ever thought about that Skinny? Nope?
Shit what about you Scales mayne? I'm-I'm unsure mayne
I got a lot of, lot of question that need to be answered
True we all got questions, but dawg I got questions
I got a lot on my mind, just just just get me a blunt man, just fire it up man Man...

Now fire up the weed, cause one day I'm gonna probably burn
The Ten Commandments in life, never my concern
Thing on my mind was, "get 'em, fore they get you"
Thing on my mind was, "stick 'em fore they stick you"
That's why niggas know, I'm bout the game before peace
Cause being free-hearted that's where it leave you deceased Cold world, cold game - they gonna split ya thang and bang shit out the car what, would drive the average man insane Ghetto love, ghetto life, ghetto death; then ya gone
And after I'm deceased I'll know life gonna go on
And what about my sons - will they do what daddy didn't finish?
Will the light come to a close, shortly after my decision?
What about daddy girl? Will she do what I wanted?
Or will she break my heart and let these, niggas up on it?

Life's a bitch!
I swear to God, you take your chances!
Too many questions, and not enough answers!
Life's a bitch! You take your chances!
Too many questions, and not enough answers!
Life's a bitch! You take your chances!
Too many questions, and not enough answers!
Life's a bitch! You take your chances!
Too many questions, and not enough answers!

I'm on the verge of losing my mind, this (?) is my last nerve
I done served my last dime, standing on this crack curb It's absurd - I been on this block, from the first to the third
Rocked a 'Bird and seen two niggas shot and left for dead in the dirt
I'm concerned if I die by the glock, will my soul soon burn?
My past clash with my future then, take a drastic turn
I'm submerged knee-deep in this here, but those around can soon return Morality's hotter than burn, making they hearts they burn and say "Fuck the world!"
We all going to Hell for some, shit that we deserve
But first we was promised a hearse and a chance on earth to visit church, for what it's worth
I'm tryna make amends for all the sins that occurred
The uncontrollable urge that emerged when I, snatched that lady's purse and the, last week that I slurred, when I, cursed on every verse Inevitable but well rehearsed, freezing my hunger as well as my thirst This glock; ready to burst, on any fools I encounter first with the, maximum amount of force, even if, worst comes to worst Cause life's a bitch!

My total first, nineteen seventy-six
Welcome to the world - I did 12 months for this shit?
Moms and pops couldn't get along - older brothers gettin grown

Now I got nothing but this diaper I'm sittin on
At night I'm closing my eyes, and thinkin about my folks that died
Tryna sleep on 'em, thinkin I ain't supposed to cry
Uncle (?); he just died from too much alcohol
And all he wanted was a fifth and pack of Paul Mall
And moms was hard gettin back, grew up on (?)
I'm tryna cut down on drinking but that's a lost cause
Guess we don't learn our lesson until we all fall
These racist cops got niggas writing they own laws
Please God, don't let 'em take us
Just tell momma I meant well, in time don't let me wake up Please God! Don't let them folks take us
Sincerely, I meant well, in time don't let me wake up
