

Don't Wait

Neck Deep

Disrupted they keep dividing
The government is lying
I'm not going to be a Pharisee of this society
Turn off your TV station
That's not real information
Trying to define the human mind
It's like puppetry
And they've got you by your strings
Playing God for money
A sorry sad charade
You can see right through it

Don't wait for anyone
Say it for you
Say it for yourself
What if God was the beggar in disguise?
Would it make any difference?
Would you open your eyes?
Whoa oh, whoa oh

Suspend your disbelief
Are you paying close attention?
If you blink then you might miss their tricks and their deception
Destruct and disobey their laws
They say cause all the world is dark
And if you choose to read the news
Then you must question everything
And they've got you on your knees
They've got your milk and honey
And then we put them on the parade
And celebrate what's coming

Don't wait for anyone
Say it for you
Say it for yourself
What if God was the beggar in disguise?
Would it make any difference?
Would you open your eyes?
Whoa oh, whoa oh

No path
No grave
No justice
No peace
Dig deep, believe
The truth will set you free

No path
No grave
No justice
No peace
Dig deep and see
The government is lying

Don't wait Don't wait for anyone For anyone
Say it for you
Say it for yourself

Yeah what if God was the beggar in disguise?
Would it make any difference?
Would you open your eyes?

No path
No grave
No justice
No peace
Dig deep, believe
The truth will set you free
No path
No grave
No justice
No peace
Would it make any difference?
Would you open your eyes?
