

Frequently baby I'm changing my mind running around with you Searching your eyes for an answer of something true
But when I turned back around to come get you You've gone and run away
I'd kiss you goodbye if I thought it would make you stay

Cause my white flag is waving in the air with the hopes that you will see what a fool I'd be to pass someone who offered it me

I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapse as you take over me
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
I need to find a place to rest my head and bring your heart back to my bed
I'm all for you

Yesterday's words fighting for a change and letting them memories look so sad
If you try to hold on the days that we wished we had
This was supposed to be my hit song
Then I wasted it all on you Tomorrow is near and I'm not gonna waste it too

Cause my white flag is waving in the air
what a fool I'd be to pass someone who offered it me

I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
surrender in your arms collapse as you take over me
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
I need to find a place to rest my head
and bring your heart back to my bed
I'm all for you

I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapse as you take over me
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
Surrender in your arms collapse as I take over You
I need to find a way
I need to find a reason
I need to find a place to rest my head
And bring your heart back to my bed
Find a place to rest my head
And bring your heart back to my bed
I'm all for you
