No Mercy

Nils Lofgren

Out for the first, the atmosphere is heavy World title lays on the line Strong and proud he is much older I am the faster I'm in my prime

Third round late he starts to tire Open cut over his left eye Smelling blood attack is relentless In the back seats I see his girl cry

Cry, no mercy, no quarter No place to hide for me and the man Lefts and rights never came in harder No mercy, take it while you can, now! No mercy take it while you can

Back in my corner they scream "No mercy !" "Put him away, don't let him recover !" Someone's eyes drills holes in my head It is his proud determined mother

Cry, no mercy, no quarter No place to hide for me or the man Right and wrong never came in harder No mercy, take it while you can, now! No mercy, take it while you can

I wish another could do this thing for me His eyes are flooded, doubt he can even see I hungered this title but now it don't seem right I fight back tears while I destroy his life

Cry, no mercy, no quarter No place to hide for me and the man Lefts and rights never came in harder No mercy, take it while you can, now! No mercy take it while you can

Cry, no mercy, no quarter No place to hide for me or the man Right and wrong never came in harder No mercy, take it while you can, now! No mercy, take it while you can
