

Back to Me

Of Mice & Men

No turning back now,
I'm moving ahead toward the way out.
Don't you hate how,
We get left behind in the fallout.

Take a breath and take heart
Instead of pulling apart
When you find yourself back at the start.

Every part of me
Catches on fire underneath,
When I ignite, you'll see.
Maybe I can light the way,
I can light the way back to me.
Back to me.

I won't stand down,
As I feel the ground begin to crack now.
So I cry out,
The same call to arms but with a new sound.

Take a breath and take heart,
When you are falling apart
And you don't even know where to start.

Every part of me
Catches on fire underneath,
When I ignite, you'll see.
Maybe I can light the way,
I can light the way back to me.

Let hope be everything that you need,
To march to a victory,
When you can't feel the difference between,
An inch and infinity.

Every part of me
Catches on fire underneath,
When I ignite, you'll see.
Maybe I can light the way,
I can light the way.

Every part of me
Catches on fire underneath,
When I ignite, you'll see.
Maybe I can light the way,
I can light the way back to me.
Back to me.
