

Brief Moment

Oh Land

I don't really like to run
But lately I have found it fun
To sprint around the lakes as if my life
Depended on it, just so I could tell you about it
I get lost in conversations
Trying to find the right occasion
To escape and check what you have sent
A video of fish making patterns on the Bottom of the blue ocean

Would you do that for me?
Only for a brief moment

Suddenly I seem to have a lot to do around the streets
Where you are coming frequently
Why do I never bump into you coincidentally
Am I making something up?
The nicest thing you said was
"You look ready to do business"
When I tried to impress you and dressed up in a suit
I'm over interpreting
When the waiter asks if we are dating
No, we're just a couple of friends
Watching videos of fish making patterns on the

Bottom of the blue ocean
Would you do that for me?
Only for a brief moment

And so we're lying in the dents
Making ripples in the sand
Like this would never end
And so we are all and everything
Making ripples in the sand
Like this would never end

Patterns in the blue ocean
You made that for me
Only for a brief moment
Patterns in the blue ocean
You made that for me
Only for a brief moment

And so we're all and everything
Making ripples in the sand
Like this would never end
