

For The Fallen Ones

Otherwise

I don't need to blame
The sins of my father, the scars of my mother
For the beast that I became
Now I shine the light on my sisters and my brothers

It's all I needed to feel alive
We'll never have to say goodbye

So take me in, but don't give up
Of your forgotten sons
Take me in and fill my cup
We'll raise our glasses
For the fallen ones

Now nothing feels the same
Picking up the pieces, covering the secrets
And I don't feel ashamed
Now that I am older, another fallen soldier

It's all I needed to stay alive
We'll never have to say goodbye

So take me in, but don't give up
On your forgotten sons
Take me in and fill my cup
We'll raise our glasses
For the fallen ones

RAISE YOUR GLASS

Take me in
Don't give up
Raise your glass
For the fallen ones

So take me in, but don't give up
On your forgotten sons
Take me in and fill my cup
We'll raise our glasses
For the fallen ones
(Raise your glasses, Raise your glasses)
For the fallen ones
