

Nothing to Me

Otherwise

So is this what you have been waiting for?
Just to be uglier than me
Another line in the sand
Your sentiment wasted
And you've become the very thing that you hated
Careful you might find what you're looking for
Looking for

Holding over me your scars
You don't know anything
Throwing all of your stones in my face
They don't mean anything
So who will your enemy be
If that's all you got then your something means nothing to me

Do you know how truly blind you are?
Yeah you should focus on yourself
You pretend you're not scared
I can tell that you're shaking
Don't look down your safety net's breaking
Careful you might find what you're looking for
Looking for

Holding over me your scars
You don't know anything
Throwing all of your stones in my face
They don't mean anything
So who will your enemy be
If that's all you got then your something means nothing to me
