

Something About Me

Pale Divine

There must be something about me
That makes you stare
There must be something inside me
That makes you scared
There must be something you see
That I can't see, and it's all over me
There must be something about me
There must be something about me
That makes you think I'm strange
There must be something inside me
It's something I can't change
When I look back on what was yesterday
You didn't have so much to say
Hey hey hey, now
But now there's something you see
That I can't see, and it's all over me
There must be something about me
There must be something about me
(Something about me)
There must be something, there must be something about me
About me, baby
There must be something about me
That makes you stare
There must be something inside me
That makes you scared, yeah yeah yeah
When I look back on what was yesterday, hey hey
You didn't have so much to say
Hey hey hey, now
But now there's something you see
That I can't see, and it's all over me
There must be something about me
There must be something about me
(Something about me)
There must be something, there must be something about me girl, now
Something about me
Something, something
Something, something
There must be something about me
There must be something
Yeah, there must be something, something...
Something about me
Something, something
There must be something about me
Something, something
Something about me, yeah yeah, yeah yeah
There must be, there must be
There must be something about me
(Something about me)
(Something about me)
(Something about me)
