

I Owe It All to You

Paul McCartney

Last night you helped me through,
Took me to the lovers zone.
I saw there, images
Projected on a wall of stone.
I stood inside Egyptian temples,
I looked into eternal gardens,
Lay on the shores of distant islands,
Listening to the sea birds song of joy.

Oh, I owe it all to you,
You make me happy,
Oh, I owe it all to you.

Late last night, we were right
Into some exotic scene.
Everywhere, images
Appearing on a giant screen.
I stood inside a glass cathedral,
I looked into the golden canyon,
Lay by the lakes of holy water
Glistening like a diamond in the light.

Oh, I owe it all to you,
You make me happy,
Oh, I owe it all to you.
