Paul Young

I waste my time waiting for answers When I could have been taking more chances But why should I try? - You'd still pass me by... All of the time I can't help but hold back Thinking about the answer you might have Thinking that I wait for 'goodbye' .... Am I waiting for my time or will the sun shine thru? Will it all come to light when I come to know you? Will you have faith in me, have much more than I do? Or am I wasting time? My inner strength is your gift of gladness Help me to love my permanent sadness Thinking that I wait for 'goodbye'... Am I wasting my time or will the sun shine through? Will it all come to light when I come to know you? Will you have faith in me, have much more than I do? And will you - stay?
