

The Moment of Truth

Peggy Lee

If you hear music, when he's near you
And Christmas comes every day of the year
Then you must know why it's the first clue
Let the moment of truth is near
If every time he glances your way
A million bells start to ring loud and clear
And after one kiss, you yell "mayday"
Then the moment of truth is near

There will come a day when he looks at you
Thrills you through and through, and calls your name
That'll be the day when you say "I do"
Cause you've discovered that you're tired of playing the game

And then you both know you're through with scheming
Oh promise me starts to swing in your ear
You're wide awake now, you're not dreaming
Cause when you say "I do", the moment of truth
At last, is here

Oh you're wide awake now, you're not dreaming
Cause when you say "I do", the moment of truth
At last, is here
