

Netherworld

Pendragon

She painted the sky sunshine yellow, the moon ocean blue
Pushing through the ice and snow
My soul still growing and flowing
Cascading like a waterfall that never ends

Maybe I'm fine

Every Sunday morning
Rise and shine, she smiles
Forgetting who we really are
No future, no past
Just us, just here and now

Just keep breathing out, breathing in