

Moments

Perkele

There's no feeling like the one
To drink a beer in the sun
To hear the music that you love and to feel free
It's the moments I remember
When it's cold in december
Makes it easier to walk through the snow

This is the moments
It makes your life worth fighting for
This is the moments that I remember
This is the moments
That makes your life worth fighting for
This the moments that I remember
When I'm getting old

There is no feeling like the one
Having a hot day in the sun
To be with people that you love and to feel free
It's the moments I remember
When it's wet in september
Makes it easier to walk through the rain

This is the moments
It makes your life worth fighting for
This is the moments that I remember
This is the moments
That makes your life worth fighting for
This is the moments that I remember
This is the moments
It makes your life worth fighting for
This is the moments that I remember
This is the moments
It makes your life worth fighting for
This is the moments that I remember
When I'm getting old
