

My Unspoken Words

Phil Keaggy

There's a road I like to walk when the morning is brand new
And the only sound you hear is the earth beneath your shoe
In silence more is said, I pray you're listening, Lord
Reach into my heart and hear the unspoken word

The road leads up a hill whose path I used to know
Suddenly it's unfamiliar, I'm not sure where it will go
So I'll wait for just a while, You know just where it hurts
Oh, assure me that you hear my unspoken words

Eternal light shine and still lead me home
Grant me sight 'til I'm where I belong

Though I've been gone a while wandering alone
In the distance there's a light I recognize as home
And You have led the way and brought me safe towards
That place where I can speak my unspoken words

Eternal light shine and still lead me home
Grant me sight 'til I'm where I belong

Eternal light shine and still lead me home
Grant me sight 'til I'm where I belong
Yeah, eternal light shine and still lead me home
Oh, grant me sight 'til I'm where I belong
