

Sooner or Later

Pilot

Congratulations, what a move you made
You made a move with certain precision
I never thought you'd bring me down so far
You know I feel so cold without your presence

I'm sailing along on an endless tide with you
And it's breaking my poor heart in two

Believing all is lost is mere suggestion
And the question has no answer
But on the other hand, our hope is destined
To find a place to settle

I'm sailing along on an endless tide with you
And it's breaking my poor heart in two

Sooner or later you'll find that your fate is decided
But don't you believe the sun shines forever
You've got to make last all the love in your heart
A moment's lost but time is free

I'm sailing along on an endless tide with you
And it's breaking my poor heart

Sooner or later you'll find that your fate is decided
But don't you believe the sun shines forever
You've got to make last all the love in your heart
A moment's lost but time is free

Sooner or later you'll find that your fate is decided
But don't you believe the sun shines forever
You've got to make last all the love in your heart
A moment's lost but time is free
