

Staring at Satellites

Prime Circle

It seems that I was wrong, it seems that things had turned around The world I knew has changed, it's hard to hold on I see you through the window and the lights they are so warm Outside here it's getting much colder But I've been running, for so long Oh I'm staring at satellites Wonder if they can hear me now And I need them so much tonight I want to be lied to, fill me in Me in...

The streets lights are so dim it's so hard to move around I wanted to shout for help, but I just can't make any sound I have lost my feet, seems I'm falling all around Become someone is all I believe in Cause I've been running, for so long

Oh I'm staring at satellites And wonder if they can hear me now Oh I need them so much tonight Want to to be lied to, fill me in Just fill me in Me in...
Hmm it's coming hmmm

Oh oh I'm staring at satellites And wonder if they can hear me now And I need them so much tonight I want to be lied to, fill me in Me in...
Staring at satellites And wonder if they can hear me now And I need them so much tonight I want to be lied to, fill me in