

Black Swan

Private Line

Take a look at your moonlight, look who's howling now
Where's the wolf's conviction, bite marks wore him out
Take a look at your white dress, can't wash out the stain!
There was a time when you gave a shit, so why am I to blame?

We flew high reaching for the sun hoping for blue skies look how we burnt up

We don't need no promises
No candles or white lies
We don't need apologies
The Black Swan flies tonight
Is it over now or did we just begin
No more ups and downs just the dark within

"All clear for the takeoff, we wish you a pleasant flight Strap yourself to your partner, there's a starry sky tonight"
But then we start to flight!

We don't need no promises
No candles or white lies
We don't need apologies
The Black Swan flies tonight
And you loved the storm and knew I'd get us home
We would play so warm, but things could get so cold

Now here we are
We flood our hearts with memories, we ride the wave
My eyes spark once again, b' you start blaming me:
"look what you did, you started a fire again!"

We don't need no promises
No candles or white lies
We don't need apologies
The Black Swan flies tonight

We don't need no promises
Future's rarely bright
We don't need apologies
No, the Black Swan's here for life!
