

People Of The Outside

Prozak

- Tyler Lyon:]
We are the lost
Cause you don't kno-o-o-ow
Forsaken so-o-o-oul
We are the ones
Waiting in the co-o-o-old
For you to no-o-o-otice

People of the outside always looking in
Through the windows of their own eyes, tryin' to fit in
But realize they will never really know the feelin'
Or replace the hole inside 'em, so cold it's like freezin', man
I can't tell 'ya how many times did I felt it
Life can be a living hell like a cell that you're trapped in
Like a bed of nails, repenting your soul relentless
Like you were born to fail, sincerely feelin' helpless
Slowly slippin' away, sinking in quicksand
Like drowning in water, shackles on both hands
Like fallin' blindfolded not knowin' where you'll end
Nobody seems to really care, nobody understands

We are the lost
Cause you don't kno-o-o-ow
Forsaken so-o-o-oul
We are the ones
Waiting in the co-o-o-old
For you to no-o-o-otice

You just got to try and believe in your oneself

Cause only you posses the key to your own self
And if you think down deep where the darkness dwells
Confront your fears to release from your own hell
Cause every breath is nothing, short of a miracle
An epic journey through time and space, so vastly spiritual
And I'm tryin' to reach it, the method lyrical?
Screamin' through your speakers
But it seems that you don't hear me though
You gotta drop the baggage, the negativity
And everything that didn't habits
So you can clearly see that peace of mind is within reach
Just gotta grab it, take control of your own destiny
And best believe you can be happy

We are the lost
Cause you don't kno-o-o-ow
Forsaken so-o-o-oul
We are the ones
Waiting in the co-o-o-old
For you to no-o-o-otice

Which side are you on?
Do you know where you're standing?

We are the lost
Forsaken so-o-o-oul

We are the ones
