

Looking Glass

Psyche

Words are falling out of place
Tears have been shed
The years you held so quickly gone
Alive in my head
If we could only reach the sky
But we stand here now
Waiting on the edge of time
in this crowded room

The emotion fails me
A parting glance
Just a second out of view
My only chance
A face I hardly knew
When it was mine
Within the looking glass
Another time

Youth is calling back to me
Whenever I'm alone
Yesterday unraveling in a quiet song
We could even touch the sky as we did before
From the edge of time
A secret dream

The emotion fails me
A parting glance
Just a second out of view
My only chance
A face I hardly knew
When it was mine
Within the looking glass
Another time
