What color are your eyes? I must not really be in love. What color is your hair? I can't exactly remember. How ruddy are your ruby lips? I must not really be in love. How dangerous is your cruelest kiss? I wish I knew the answer. Cause I'm paralyzed and I can't see and I suspect that I'll be the last to know this woman who's in front of me and how it feels to melt like snow. What whispers inside my ear? I must not really be in love. What poetry was written there? I can't exactly remember. How beautiful is your beauty mark? Where exactly was it placed? How dangerous is your touch? I wish I knew the answer. Cause I'm paralyzed and I can't see and I suspect that I'll be the last to know this woman who's in front of me and how it feels to melt like snow. Save me from this angel spider Poison like the smoothest opium. Let me see inside her Without losing my way back to freedom. What color are your eyes? I must not really be in love. What color is your hair? I can't exactly remember. How it feels to melt like snow Like snow Like snow
