

Shoulda Thought Of That

Rachel Stevens

I heard your voice on the phone,
I heard everything you said
You can't hurt me anymore
Scratching your name off of the wall
I wash my hands, clean off it all
Love in the past happened so fast
Now there's no chance, such bitterness can take its toll
You left me no choice, I heard your voice
Listening on the phone thought I wasn't home
Out of your hands, Not in your plans
Well its not up to you now
You're on your own
You try to lie bout where you were that night
But I see in your eyes, the truth is lying inside
Bet you never though I'd say goodbye,
Bet it's hitting you this time
chorus
Now you say you want me be back
And you made a mistake
Said you needed your space
Now you got it
How did you think I'd react
Did you give a thought
Think you'd never get caught
And did you try to stop it
My loves what it cost
Look what you lost
I guess you're sorry now
Well you shoulda thought of that
Before you threw it away
Best believe their is no way I'm coming back
(Yeah, Yeah, Yeah, Yeah)
It's hard to believe how easily another girl was taking my place
Walk out the door, Even the score
Leave you behind
You don't deserve the trust I gave
Funny how the tables slowly turned
I guess you live and learn
This time I won't get burned
What exactly do you take me for
I'm not a fool for you anymore
Now you say you want me be back
And you made a mistake
Said you needed your space
Now you got it
How did you think I'd react
Did you give a thought
Think you'd never get caught
And did you try to stop it
My loves what it cost
Look what you lost
I guess you're sorry now
Well you shoulda thought of that
Before you threw it away
Best believe their is no way I'm coming back
I'm not coming back
You keep pushing me close to leave

I've had enough of your games
You're taking the blame
You're driving me insane
You've taken all that you can
No matter how I try to walk away
Avoid the pain, baby
Couldn't stand for this to carry on
Turn around and I'll be gone
Now you say you want me be back
And you made a mistake
Said you needed your space
Now you got it
How did you think I'd react
Did you give a thought
Think you'd never get caught
And did you try to stop it
My loves what it cost
Look what you lost
I guess you're sorry now
Well you shoulda thought of that
Before you threw it away
Best believe their is no way
Now you say you want me be back
And you made a mistake
Said you needed your space, now you got it
