

Losing all the time, you're such a brave bug on a light bulb

I happened to forget you had anatomy
You took out your eyes
For me to see better
Oh once or twice you've come to me 'cause I don't invite Enough of you babe
To have fun and stay
Oh oh

Losing all the time, you're such a brave bug on a light bulb

Cunning never ever failed you girl so get clever

Now your mouth is whole
It's incomplete, was stole
A recurring dream of sleep beneath the sheets
Having much to learn
A constant curve to turn
A mask made well becomes a shell
To hide the burn

Driving every mile inside a paper mache lion
Going home is sort of hopeless
