

Freedom

Radical Something

I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find
A little bit of Freedom
I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find a little bit of freedom
A little bit of Freedom

I'm runnin down a road I've seen some times before
I guess its an affliction of this place I call home
The faces they never seem to fade
And the scenery I'm slipping just remains the same
Oh yeah
I guess I'm wondering if this world that we live in
Will ever get to rearrange, arrange
I guess I'm wondering if this world that we live in
Will ever get to see some change
So I kick the gravel as I run past
Wishing that time travel wasn't something of the past
Shadows they electrify
They tell me not to chase myself and always to be satisfied
Were doing better things now that we all teamed up
We are radicals, realities these others only dreamed of Oh man we are radical,
Radicals these others only dreamed of

I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find
A little bit of Freedom
I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find a little bit of freedom
A little bit of Freedom

You cant capture me
But you can forfeit all your stress
Make a deal with your love and put your hatred to rest, uh huh
You've been living in some shoes
You asked for size twelve but they keep giving you catch twenty twos
Make do, yeah, and form a run
Achieving what you promised to become
And winning every race without ever needing a gun
Is fighting for the day without ever seeing the sun
See we should strap up our shoes and turn into a group of better people
And if there's nothing left to lose
Then all we gotta do is treat each other equal

I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find
A little bit of Freedom
I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find a little bit of freedom
A little bit of Freedom
I got my headphones on and I'm running real fast
I'm just trying to find a little bit of freedom
A little bit of Freedom
