Run Free

Rebecca Ferguson

I used to know a girl, who had a dream Her head full of ambition, her heart filled with pain Walking the same walk, seeing the same faces Wishing she could, trade places

Maybe I could fly away, she'd say Even though time's moved on, I still feel the same

And I wanna be happy And I wanna find my way And I wanna run free And I wanna fly away

Every good thing comes at a price Sometimes you just gotta melt the ice It's not a question of when, just how After all this time, I've found

That I wanna be happy And I wanna find my way And I wanna run free And I wanna fly away

I wanna be happy And I wanna find my way And I wanna run free And I wanna fly away

It may take time to find my feet You'll get there sometime, they say to me

But I wanna be happy And I wanna find my way And I wanna run free And I wanna fly away

I'm gonna be happy And I wanna find my way And I, I'm gonna run free, And I, I'm gonna fly away [repeat]
