

STILL

Rend Collective Experiment

In a world, in a rush, I will rest, and I'll trust in You
I won't fight, I won't strive, but I'll lean all my life on You
You take the pressure off my shoulders
You make my soul a little lighter
In a world, in a rush, I will rest, and I'll trust in You

You are the still, still waters to my soul
I will rest in Your love
I will be still and know You're in control
I will rest in Your love

In the face of my fears, I will cast all my cares on You
You're the prince of my peace, I can finally breathe with You
You take the world right off my shoulders
When I'm anxious You're the solace
In the face of my fears, I will cast all my cares on You

You are the still, still waters to my soul
I will rest in Your love
I will be still and know You're in control
I will rest in Your love

When I'm weary, how You lift me
Now I'm back up on my feet
When You're with me, You restore me
You're the sabbath that I need
When I'm weary, how You lift me
Now I'm back up on my feet
When You're with me, You restore me
You're the sabbath that I need

You are the still, still waters to my soul
I will rest in Your love
I will be still and know You're in control
I will rest in Your love

When I'm weary, how You lift me
Now I'm back up on my feet
When You're with me, You restore me
You're the sabbath that I need
When I'm weary, how You lift me
Now I'm back up on my feet
When You're with me, You restore me
You're the sabbath that I need
