

Fight and Battle

Ricky Dillon

My life in color
Is fading to gray
I'm shrinking, I'm shortened
And never to tame

And to say "tomorrow's gone"
The moments fade away
Well, today I'm stronger from
The pain of yesterday

I found reason to believe in
This is my life, I'll keep breathing
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on

Star bright, shine bright
I'm hiding tonight
I wish I could feel right
There's nothing in sight

And to say "tomorrow's gone"
The moments fade away
Well, today I'm stronger from
The pain of yesterday

I found reason to believe in
This is my life, I'll keep breathing
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on

Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on

If you want it
Then go ahead and tell 'em what you need
If you want it
Then go ahead and tell 'em what you need
You've gotta learn that you've gotta fight
That you've gotta battle on every day and night
Cause you've gotta learn that you've gotta fight
That you've gotta battle on every day night

I found reason to believe in
This is my life, I'll keep breathing
I found reason to believe in
This is my life, I'll keep breathing
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
Fight and battle on, fight and battle on
