

Just Movement

Robert DeLong

I wanna be anywhere but here
I wanna be anywhere but here
I wanna be anywhere but here
Always
Always

We call that progress
We call that progress
We call that progress
We call that progress
But it's just movement
Movement

It's always different somewhere new
It's always different somewhere new
It's always different somewhere new Always
Always

We call that better
We call that better
We call that better
Alright
Alright
Alright

And we think of life in terms of truth
And we think of life in terms of truth
But why know what a thing can do
Function could be the only truth
Cause it's just movement

We call that progress
We call that progress
We call that progress
We call that progress

And basically, I want to know
And basically I've got to know
And basically I want to know
Where were going
Where were going
It's just movement
