

Gone Away

Roberta Flack

I try to reason and I tell myself you'll return
But you are gone and I know I know I know you're gone
You were mine for only a minute and if I hurt you I didn't intend it

You are gone away I keep telling my mind
You're not gonna stay
Yet I believe sometimes that I've lost you baby
I've lost you baby and you are gone

Forgive and forget it that's not what I'll ask you to do
'Cause I want you back you know you know I want you back
And in concluding my mental displeasure
I found I've lost my prize possession

You are gone away I keep telling my mind
You're not gonna stay
Yet I believe sometimes that I've lost you baby
I've lost you baby and you are gone

You were mine for only a minute and if I hurt you I didn't intend it
You are gone away I keep telling my mind
You're not gonna stay
Yet I believe sometimes I've lost you baby
I've lost you baby and you are gone
