

Little Girl Blue

Robin Trower

One, two, three, four

You hide away your heart
Where no one would ever find it
Someone's broken it apart
And you're pretending you don't mind it
Don't give up too soon
Little girl blue

You say that life is not worth living
Although you once believed
In all that you were giving
Until you were deceived
Don't give up too soon
Little girl blue

And when he promises the sun and moon
And every star in the sky
Just dance on by

All the why's and where for's
Unravel every night
Head toward the far shore
Until the past is out of sight
Don't give up too soon
Little girl blue
