

Shining Through

Robin Trower

If you let me, I would give my life for you
But don't forget me and everything I try to do
And when he starts to treat you bad
My love will come shining through

He can get you all the things you dream about
But can he be true in your heart that seeds of doubt
And when he starts to treat you bad
My love will come shining through

Pages turning, precious moments drifting by
I'll be waiting, no wasted tears not one more sign
And when he starts to treat you bad
My love will come shining through
