

Step into the Dark

Robin Trower

I'm countin' it, one, two, three
I step into the dark
It's a fantasy
I fell in love with her
'Cause now she's turned you, well
You'll see light in hell
With no one left in doubt
But yourself
Oh, step into the dark

Ain't no sympathy
Our path is wide
Now you're running free
And you must play the part
'Cause love is not a game
You win or you lose
The best is to remain
If you choose
Oh, step into the dark
Oh, step into the dark

Step into the dark
Step into the double light
Step into the dark
Step into the dark

Now the gentle mind
Let reason have its way
And by the same design
You fight another day
'Cause now she's turned you out
For somebody else
With no one left in doubt
But yourself
Oh, step into the dark
Oh, step into the dark

Step off

Step into the dark
Step into the dark
Step into the dark
Step into the dark
Step into the dark
