

Whisper up a storm

Robin Trower

I see the light of truth
Behind the words
And no one knows the pain
You've seen and heard
Don't say that you have no choice
With no one to hear your voice
You can shout and make no sound
Or whisper up a storm

You cry your heart to break
You're not to blame

When you're drowning in the flood
Don't pray for rain
Just take one step at a time
And leave what you had behind
You can shout and make no sound
Or whisper up a storm

Don't say that you have no choice
With no one to hear your voice
You can shout and make no sound
Or whisper up a storm
