

She Knows Me

Ronan Keating

I have sung a thousand love songs
Never understood what I said
It's not to say they were not good songs
I just didn't know what love meant then
I guess at times it's not been easy
To hide behind a thousand eyes
That were blind but now can see me
For the man I always knew I was

Let it rain on me
With you I need no shelter
I have all I need to protect us from whatever
May come to be
And When I'm tired I'm guessing she knows
Oh
She knows me

I have been so many places
But none I've truly ever seen
I was just packing empty cases
Others carried around for me
There's a lighthouse in the fog
Shining brightly for us all
But when you see the light you gotta be willing to fall
To fall

Let it rain on me
With you I need no shelter
I am all I need, protect us from whatever
They come to be
When I'm tired I'm guessing she knows
Oh
She knows me
