

When will you comfort me
I traced your back so I could see
Where you have been

Last night I couldn't sleep
I faced the wall and listed all of
The lines on me

The sky is auburn red
I've placed my heart within the worlds
That we have made

And although our minds are blue
I'll paint yours in until you feel like
You're back to you