

Like to meet your fiercest enemies
Who dwell in haunted cemeteries
Beneath a palish light?

Like to watch a human sacrifice
That leaves your body petrified
And shivering with fright?

Come with me and let us crawl
This creepy carnival
Of horror, blood and lies
Come dance along with pain and grief
And joyfully believe
In gothic paradise

Spend the day with "lucifer's gazette"
Waiting for the sun to set
To live in black and white

And suddenly a dreary gutterfly
Becomes a morbid butterfly
That lives for just one night

Come with me...
