Meaning Is The Drug

Rotersand

Feeling the quest for an answer One spark will set your spirit alight Like music is driving the dancer It calls on your forces inside

An image your mind can decipher
A word that your own perception has told
A notion to live or to die for
A vision you dare to behold

A tiny line dividing friend and enemy Don't you know that meaning is the drug A force divine to make our minds one family Don't you know that meaning is the drug
